

23 - Anello di Poggio Pelato – 9 km – 300 m difference in height

By car, take the Aurelia and take the exit at Castiglioncello (Le Spianate).

Immediately after the exit for those coming from the south, turning left there is a clearing for parking.

A dirt road starts in front of us, on which we set off.

After a few tens of meters, on our right, another small road opens closed by a chain to prevent access to cars. From here begins our journey which, in constant ascent, will take us to the vast square of an abandoned quarry.

Above the quarry the repeaters on the top of the hill are visible.

Continuing now on the carriage dirt road and going around the side of the hill, we will find a crossroads, at which we will take to the left and then, still to our left, we will take a path that climbs more decisively and that will take us to the top.

Staying behind the repeaters, the view opens onto the Livorno hills, while, bypassing the fence on the right, we can find a splendid view of the sea where we can have our snack.

For the return, go down the same way to the quarry square and then go down using the dirt road on your right that takes us back to the starting point.
