

SANTA LUCE

25 - Anello di Pian del Pruno – 11 km – 530 difference in height (hunting area)

Once in Santa Luce, we will leave the cars in the large parking lot at the entrance to the town. We will then walk towards the town, keeping to the right of it and skirting the deep valley of the Sabbiena stream. It will not be difficult to exit in the right direction by following the red and white signposts.

Once we have forded the Sabbiena (it will not be possible to do so if it has rained a lot), the path will lead us in constant ascent towards the top of the knoll, until we reach its flat summit which is precisely Pian del Pruno.

The picnic area will host our snack.

Continuing to the left, we will begin to descend, always keeping to the left at some crossroads and leaving out the small paths: our path now winds all along a carriage forest track.

Passing from the suggestive Fonte al Tiglio, we continue to descend towards Santa Luce, enjoying the beautiful panorama in front of us.

Before arriving in Villamagra, it may be interesting to take a detour to the right, where we will find the enclosures of a Highlander cow farm and other nice animals.

Back on the main road, we are now in sight of Santa Luce, where we will enter the town from the opposite side to the one from which we came out.
